The latest census bulletin gives some interesting facts as to the sugar cane production of the United States 1879. The production of sugar reached 179,000 sheads, and of Molasses near 17,000, 000 gallons. This is a remarkable increase over the amount reported in 1870, when 87,000 bogsheads of sugar and 6,000,000 gallons of molasses were produced. But the present yield does not compare so favorably with that re-turned by the census of 1860, which was 231,000 hogsheads of sugar and 15,006,000 gallons of molasses. The bulk both of Louisiana. In the present census rethan 181,500 hogsheads of sugar. Its production of the former article has

Letter to General Willcox. Mr. P. J. Bolan, District Attorney of Graham county, publishes the following open letter to General O. B. Willcox, dated March 28th.

On the 11th of the present month three companies of Indian scouts on their way from Fort Commings, New Mexico, to the San Carlos Indian reservstion, when passing through the stock ranges on the upper Gila wantonly killed several head of cattle, some of which they did not use any part of; portions of others they took to Ash Springs, their next camping place. They also set fire to the grass on the same ranges in two or three places, thereby doing great damage to the stock raisers.

It is generally supposed that these Indian scouts are employed by, and in the service of the government for the purpose of assisting in the protection of the citizen and his property; but it seems that in this instance they were in the service to give vent to their destructive propensities.
